

Component Importer

---

User Tutorial for the Component Importer

May 2, 2014

1.0 Import Components with the Component Importer

Open or return to GME, then find the component importer in the tool bar and select it. Browse for the zip file that you downloaded for that component. Once you have selected the component, press Open.

NOTE:

You will not need to unzip the components downloaded from the exchange to import them.

The GME browser should contain a new folder called “Imported Components.” Inside this folder is the Mass_Gold from the component exchange. This process can be repeated for any components you feel will be necessary for your design. You can import multiple components at the same time by selecting all of them.